

App Name: BreadGrader

Description:

Use this app to keep track of your grades in an academic semester. First, the user must define a semester with respect to its season and year (like fall 2014). Then the courses for that semester must be specified. The user will input the breakdown of assignment types, known as criteria, for a each course. Finally, the user will use the app again when an assignment is given out by the instructor or when the assignment has been graded.

Group Members:

Brian Kim

Known Bugs:

- the date field of the assignment is not properly interacting with the database. it seems to be parsed correctly, but gets lost in translation somewhere...

Future features:

- settings menu
- help menu
- backup option (Dropbox API)
- view ungraded assignments from home screen
- graphical display of grades (graphs)
- optimizations (making an excessive number of sql calls right now)